

Biography

Dr Tay Yu Kwang Donovan is a Senior Consultant in the Department of Endocrinology in Sengkang General Hospital. He received further advanced specialist training in Endocrinology and was certified by the Specialists Accreditation Board of Singapore. He received the SingHealth Health Manpower Development Plan award and underwent further training in Metabolic Bone Disease and Osteoporosis at the Metabolic Bone Disease Unit, Division of Endocrinology, Department of Medicine, College of Physician and Surgeons, Columbia University (New York, USA) under the tutelage of Professor John P. Bilezikian.

Dr Tay's clinical expertise and interest includes management of metabolic bone disease, in addition to common hormonal problems. He runs a metabolic bone clinic at Sengkang General Hospital to provide comprehensive care to diagnose, manage and counsel patients with metabolic bone diseases and osteoporosis as well as the rarer genetic conditions related to bone metabolism. He also established the fracture liaison service in Sengkang General Hospital.